Recommended lighting for terrace solar lights

What is the best lighting for a terrace?

For a well-lit terrace, consider using a 0.8-1m high wall light like the WMLR7AG0226. This provides good illumination across the whole terrace and also lights up low tables. Additionally, using upward light can add volume to the space.

Does your Terrace need lighting?

Your terrace is more than just a space--it's a place where you can unwind, entertain, or simply enjoy the outdoors. The right lighting doesn't just brighten your terrace; it adds ambiance, highlights key features, and makes the space functional.

How to choose a lamp for a terrace?

You can light up a special corner of your terrace, perhaps where you have a prominent decorative element or plant. Another option is to choose a statement lamp that acts as decoration in itself, such as a table or floor lamp. Always ensure that the devices you choose meet outdoor safety requirements.

Why should you choose LED lighting for your Terrace?

LED lighting: their low consumption makes them less expensive, and this technology offers lots of decorative possibilities. The lighting on your terrace will be exposed to the elements, so the lights you choose must meet all safety requirements, as we have mentioned.
